

Newcastle College

Newcastle College is the perfect place to study if you're looking for a college that can offer hands-on learning alongside a brilliant student experience. We are based in the heart of Newcastle upon Tyne, which is regularly voted the best place in the UK for students and was recently named The Rough Guide's number 1 city in the world.

We work closely with local business to ensure that the future generation of talent receives training which is up to date with the requirements of employers. We offer a breadth of training and development programmes, from entry level qualifications to Masters degrees.

Our aim is to unlock the potential of every student that begins their journey with us and it's our duty to ensure that we teach individual's the skills so that they can enter employment after completing their studies. By aligning ourselves close to industry we're able to provide a pipeline of talent which benefits the North East and the wider economy.

We are a part of NCG, who have been awarded Taught Degree Awarding Powers (TDAP), and were the first further education institution in the UK to develop and award our own Honours and Masters degrees. These powers allow us to build on our strength as a vocational higher education provider, developing degrees which are more responsive and meet the skills needs of employers.

More recently we have also been awarded the prestigious Queen's Anniversary Prize for Higher and Further Education, in recognition for our outstanding commitment to vocational training through our Transport Academy.
