Cambridgeshire and Peterborough carers
for families, for partners, for supporters... for you
Welcome

Welcome to the Spring edition of Carers magazine.

Once again we are able to share many opportunities for support and information that are available to carers.

It’s always encouraging to look through the events section and see so many people providing such a wide range of activities.

We know the huge value and importance of carers. We also work to make sure we remain aware of the needs and challenges you face, so we can make our support and advice as helpful and relevant as possible.

Another key part of our work is campaigning - ensuring that carers are recognised and heard.

We were delighted to arrange for Chief Nursing Officer for NHS England, Ruth May, to spend time with a group of carers in Ely. She was very receptive to hearing what carers had to say about their experiences, issues they have faced and what can be done to help them.

Young Carers Awareness Day on 30 January saw the launch of our new resource for schools. The response to this has been extremely positive. We continue to work with schools to improve the early identification and support of young carers.

Enjoy reading about these and more in this issue.

Miriam Martin
Chief executive
Chief nursing officer of NHS England meets Cambridgeshire carers

Caring Together recently organised for a group of carers from our Ely hub to meet with the NHS England Chief Nursing Officer for England, Ruth May, on her recent visit to Cambridgeshire.

This gave the carers the opportunity to increase Ruth's awareness of the issues that carers are facing and what they feel needs to be done to improve the identification and support of carers.

Issues raised included:
- Getting a diagnosis.
- Hospital car parking charges.
- Carer awareness amongst health professionals.
- Training for carers to support them in their role.
- Access to respite.

Carers spoke about their experiences, saying:
"You wouldn't send your loved one to a hospital where they haven't had training, but when they come home – you've had no training at all!"
"Carers are always having to fight for everything – with everything else going on, it's like a double, triple-whammy."
"I was so upset but I couldn't show it to my husband – you have to put on this front."
"Before coming to the hub, I dreaded going out, but now I love it – I really look forward to it. That is down to Arda and Richard."
"When we want help, they're [Caring Together] there – they give us knowledge, tips and confidence."
"Sometimes I feel really angry – I don't know how to vent it."

Caring Together regularly have opportunities for carers to raise awareness about their experiences as carers and to help improve the support available.

If you would be interested in helping with this, please give us a call on 0345 241 0954 or email hello@caringtogether.org
Carers voices in hospitals

• Are you a carer?

• Do you have any experiences of Addenbrooke’s Hospital, Hinchingbrooke Hospital or Peterborough City Hospital?

• Would you like to help them to continue to improve the identification and support of carers?

• Then Caring Together would like to hear from you!

All three hospitals work closely with Caring Together to improve their ability to identify and support carers and are committed to the Carer Friendly Tick Award.

They have regular meetings to review their work around carers to ensure that they are doing the best job for carers, and they are keen for carers to be at the heart of this work.

If you would be willing to get involved with either of the hospital trusts’ carers strategy or groups for carers to give their views, please contact Andy McGowan, head of carer services at Caring Together, for more information. 0345 241 0954 andy.mcgowan@caringtogether.org

We know that many carers go unidentified and unsupported for many years, and we often hear from carers, “I wish I’d known about you sooner!”

As part of our Carer Friendly Tick Award - Communities, our carers support team works with community organisations across Cambridgeshire and Peterborough, delivering talks about our services and raising awareness of carers, as well as helping them to look at what they can do in order to support the carers that they are in contact with.

Members of our team have recently met with projects such as The Lantern Initiative, Peterborough Women’s Association and an Asian Women’s group in Cambridge. We have also linked in with the new Cambridge Central Mosque.

If you are part of a community group or organisation and would be keen to find out more about our Carer Friendly Tick - Communities Award or the work that we do, please contact hello@caringtogether.org or call us on 0345 241 0954
Carer Friendly Tick

More organisations have received the award since it was launched last year

Following on from the launch of our Carer Friendly Tick Award on Carers Rights Day (21 November), numerous organisations have been working hard to achieve the Carer Friendly Tick Award.

Octagon at Cornerstone Practice (Health)

This surgery has its own notice board for carers information – which the panel of carers thought gave a great opportunity for more carers to learn about the support available.

They have a mix of face-to-face carer awareness training delivered by Caring Together and online training modules.

The surgery has a champion for carers and this role is a clearly defined part of their job.

They also made sure they raised awareness of young carers by having a large display in the waiting room on Young Carers Awareness Day.

If you would like to find out more about the Carer Friendly Tick Award for your organisation or group please, email hello@caringtogether.org or give us a call on 0345 241 0954

Day clubs for older people

Would your loved one benefit from some time with others in a safe, friendly and relaxed environment?

We offer day clubs where they can try a variety of different activities covering all interests.

They are aimed at older people with conditions associated with mental health, dementia, strokes and being elderly and/or frail.

Carers get a regular break to enable them to do whatever they choose while the person they care for is being looked after by our trained care workers.

Activities include:
• reminiscence
• board games
• jigsaws
• singing.

Hot cooked lunches are prepared on the premises and other refreshments are provided.

We run day clubs in the following March, Fulbourn and King’s Lynn.

Transport may be available - please ask at the time of enquiry.

I am probably a new name to many of you. I joined Caring Together as the fundraising manager in October 2019. I have worked within the charity sector as a fundraiser for the last 20 years. My passion lies with a charity that really makes a difference in our local communities and Caring Together is certainly doing this.

I am married with one grown-up son and the love of my life, my two-year-old cockapoo, Bertie. I have lived in the Fens for most of my life. I have had personal experience of being a carer and I certainly wish I had known about Caring Together then.

I hope you enjoy this new feature in your magazine giving you the low down on the charity's news, fundraising activities and lots more. I am always at the end of a phone if you ever want to get in touch.

Warmest wishes,
Nicky Newton
Angela’s getting on her cycle to help carers

Percy, my dad was diagnosed with Alzheimer’s three years ago. My parents moved to a flat in Sawston in 2019 so they could be nearer to our families.

Caring for someone 24-hours a day can be a lonely task and Caring Together has made a huge difference for my mum and dad. They feel lucky knowing such a group is there for them.

The main reasons for choosing to do a charity ride is that my dad has been a life long cyclist. He started cycling just after the war in order to "get out of London". When he was 12 or 13 his dad bought him a bike and gave him a map and he has never looked back. He would often cycle from London to Brighton in a day.

Another favourite was London to Bicester where his sister was stationed where he would camp out with a friend and return to London the next day.

I have been a keen cyclist on and off for 50 years. I competed at national schoolgirl and junior level. In later life I competed in women’s road races, world masters pursuit on the velodrome at Manchester, in local time trials, as well as completing the L’Étape (a stage of the Tour de France). More recently I have been riding for the pleasure of cycling, keeping fit and healthy, and for social reasons. I lead a women’s group called ‘Women on Wheels’ which meets twice a week on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

The route for the charity ride on 14 June will be around South Cambridgeshire villages with cafe stops. There will be other cyclists doing the ride too, some by themselves and some in small groups.

My mum and dad have been using the local Caring Together group in Great Shelford, Cambridge. The group meets every two weeks and mum and dad are able to go along together.

My dad is looked after by volunteers who encourage activities, such as listening to music or craft if they wish or in my dad’s case he likes the cups of tea and to sit quietly on his own. My mum can chat with other carers in similar situations and spend some time on her own with them in a group in another room. There are sometimes talks too which have been useful.
The technology enabled care team at Cambridgeshire County Council supports people of all ages to live well and independently in their own homes for longer. They also support carers and aim to work with you in promoting the safety and happiness of yourself and your loved ones, by assessing which items of assistive technology can best support your current lifestyle. Last year, 22% of their interventions resulted in informal carer support, reducing anxieties and stress.

Another means of support is the Carers UK digital resource, located at carersdigital.org

This is an online platform which provides a comprehensive toolkit for carers, ranging from digital products and online resources to local information and solutions.

Visit the website and use their free access code to create an account: DGTL3385.

A key feature of the digital resource is Jointly, the care coordination app. As a user of this app you can communicate with other carers and set up circles of care. Alternatively the app can be used to simply organise your own care, with features such as tasks allocation, calendars, notes and medications lists. However you choose to use it, this app will make caring for your loved ones a little easier. The app can be easily accessed from any smartphone, tablet or iPad.

If you are interested in hearing more about the TEC team or about the digital resource then please contact us at 01480 378160 TEC@cambridgeshire.gov.uk

On 7 January 2020 the two separate Carers' Partnership Boards of Cambridgeshire and Peterborough merged to become a single board covering the two local authority areas.

This merger was the result of discussions between Cambridgeshire County Council and Peterborough City Council, and conversations with all the Partnership Boards. The councils were very keen to make sure that the good practice from each board was retained, and built on, in the new merged board.

At this meeting, the Partnership Board discussed the draft terms of reference for the new merged board. Members also gave their views on items which might be part of the new carers’ contract. This spells out Cambridgeshire and Peterborough councils’ support for carers in the area - and is due to start in August 2020.

Are you a carer living in East Cambridgeshire?

The Partnership Board really wants to ensure it is hearing the voices of carers from all parts of Cambridgeshire and Peterborough. The Partnership Board has independent members (carers) from all areas – except for East Cambridgeshire.

If you live in communities such as Ely, Isleham, Littleport and Swaffham, they would really like to welcome you to their board. Do you talk with fellow carers about services and how they are working? They would welcome your ideas on how they can work with the local authorities and service providers to improve services – or to thank them for delivering a good service.

Where art meets science

Jackie Tevlin’s account of the art project unveiling

On 14 December 2019, I was invited, as a carer, to an event at the new Jeffrey Cheah Biomedical Centre at Addenbrooke’s Hospital. It was the first event at the building and a celebration of months of hard work involving carers, loved ones with multiple sclerosis and Parkinson’s, doctors, researchers and artists.

The purpose of the event was to see the art installation vinyl wall made up of our own originally created ceramic tiles.

The ‘art meets science project’ saw us meeting over four weeks to design and create painted and glazed ceramic tiles, that expressed our relationship to the disease. It was a collaborative task that saw us in conversation with one another.

For some researchers it was the first time they had met someone with MS. For our loved ones they were able to ask meaningful questions about up to the minute research.

For a full-time carer such as myself, it was a wonderful opportunity to focus, relax and create. We all played creatively with clay, under the watchful eye of professional artists such as Harold Offeh (above) and Kate the potter.

I choose to create a butterfly tile based on a Ghanaian image meaning tenderness and when it was returned I was delighted!

As a carer it seems to me tenderness is one of the most important qualities we can show our loved ones. It is a quality that needs constant practice.

There was a real ‘WOW’ factor for all of us when we saw the art installation for the first time. No matter what our ability, we had all done our creative best. Getting to know one another on an equal footing was a privilege. One researcher commented, “We met wonderful optimistic people, who are also struggling with jobs, lives, families, etc.” whether a carer or cared for.

Sadly my husband was too ill to attend – making alternative care arrangements is an ever present challenge these days for many family carers.
Family carers hubs
There’s something for everyone

Would you like the chance to meet with other carers in your area without having to worry about replacement care for the person you support?

Would you like practical support, information and training to help you in your caring role?

Would you benefit from peer support or from talking to one of our trained professionals about what matters to you?

If any of these apply to you why not come along to one of our family carers hubs? They are for all adult carers and the person they care for.

The hubs provide opportunities to access a range of coordinated community based help and support which includes social groups, activities, training and wellbeing support for carers and the people they care for. This enables carers to have a short break within the hub knowing that the person that they care for is involved in a safe, meaningful and enjoyable activity.

They also provide opportunities for carers and the people they care for to engage in activities together. Family carers hubs bring together a range of organisations who are able to offer support and information to carers through talks, presentations and information stands.

Our Cambridge family carers hub is run in partnership with Arlington Manor who host and provide refreshments. The Peterborough hub is run in partnership with Cross Keys Homes who provide our venue.

When sight and hearing loss affects your mental wellbeing

Deafblindness is a completely different condition to a sight loss plus a hearing loss. It is a distinct impairment that has a uniquely catastrophic impact on people’s lives - yet it often receives far less recognition and support than many single impairments.

Most commonly associated with ageing, deafblindness involves loss of sight and hearing to the point where everyday things – accessing information, talking with family and friends, leaving the house – become very difficult or even impossible. People who are deafblind then find themselves in unimaginable social, emotional and physical isolation.

Many of us struggle with our mental health at one time or another but when coupled with sight and hearing loss, this can be even more difficult to cope with.

What’s more, studies have shown that people who are deafblind are more likely to be affected by depression and communication difficulties could make it harder to treat, therefore exacerbating the situation.

At Deafblind UK they regularly hear about how people who are deafblind struggle with the usual stresses of life, of their frustrations being unable to contribute to their community, and of the anxiety and depression their situations create.

Thankfully, mental health has become part of the national conversation and the issue is being discussed much more openly. They offer anyone who is affected by deafblindness, including families and carers, a free helpline for when things get difficult.

One caller told Deafblind UK that she was so pleased to speak to someone who was patient and who listened to her.

Their trained staff are available between 9am and 5pm Monday to Thursday, and 9am to 4pm on Fridays.

They are here to provide emotional support and to let our members know that it’s OK not to be OK. They can also help with finding out vital information about your condition and local services in your area.

Young carers and young adult carers

The latest news on our support for young carers and young adult carers in Cambridgeshire and Peterborough

Infant carers resource

On Young Carers Awareness Day, we launched a brand new free resource and animated film to help infant/primary schools identify and support young carers among the youngest children.

The printed resource for early years foundation stage (EYFS) and key stage 1 includes short stories, creative and craft activities, topics for discussion and colouring pages. Hard copies of the resource are available to schools across Huntingdonshire, Norfolk and Peterborough with other schools able to have a digital version via the Caring Together website. It is designed to be easy to use. Staff don’t need any previous knowledge or experience of identifying or supporting young carers.

An animated film version of the main story in the resource has been produced with voices of these characters provided by three children who receive support from Caring Together’s young carers service.

Evie, Felicity and Jake spent the day with Caring Together and an animation company in a recording studio to record the voices of the young carers in the cartoon.

If you would like your school to access a copy of the pack and animation, visit caringtogether.org/infant-carers
Bursaries for young carers

Thanks to funding from Carers Trust and BBC Children in Need, we have been able to provide bursaries to young carers from across Cambridgeshire and Peterborough to enable them to access opportunities which their peers might take for granted.

We had two young adult carers supporting us with the decision-making process to help ensure that the bursaries supported the young people where it would make the most difference.

The funding has been for things such as:

- School trips
- College course induction costs
- Gym membership
- Activities for a school young carers group.

We hope to be able to make more opportunities such as these possible throughout the year, so do check out the Caring Together social media pages and website for our latest information.

Time together at the theatre

Following on from the success of the Christmas parties for young carers thanks to generous donations, Caring Together were able to support over 150 young carers and family members to spend some quality time together at the theatre.

Not only did the families get to have some time away as a family, but they also were able to experience it with other families in similar situations.

“Thank you so much. This is going to be a day to remember, we are so grateful. It was amazing thank you so much for giving us the opportunity to have an amazing evening together as a family.”
Young carers project

“But who will look after them when I go to secondary school?”

Becca is our young carers project worker for the Huntingdonshire and Cambourne area. Becca first met Megan* in February 2019 at her primary school. It was clear she was taking on a lot of responsibility for her older sibling who has autism. She was also supporting her mum who struggled with her mental health.

Megan was invited to one of our groups for young carers of primary school age. It was there she flourished. She made friends, shared her worries, found a new love for art and had well-earned break away from her caring role.

Megan shared her worries about starting secondary school. She said it made her feel nervous and she was worried about who would look after her mum while she was in school. She was also worried that she may be bullied due to her older sister’s needs.

Together with her young carers project worker, they came up with a plan! They talked through all of Megan’s worries and fears, they put into place an action plan and Megan began to feel a bit more confident.

Megan and her young carers project worker visited her secondary school together. There they met up with the young carers champion and talked through how she feels. After the meeting Megan said, “I cannot wait to start here, I am so excited to join the group at school too.”

Megan has settled in well at school and is in top set for all subject. She has gained confidence to join in with extra circular activities and has represented young carers so well in her secondary school.

If you are a young carer who is worried about the next big step, please don’t be. Centre 33 offers support during times of change and if you are in year 6 or year 9, we can support you through ‘My Future’. We can help plan for the next stage, support you to help share your needs, and ensure your voice is heard. We can use ‘My Plan’ to help you set goals and work with you to achieve them. Sometimes it can be hard to work out what to do.

For more information on the young carers project, Please call 0333 414 1809 and ask to speak to someone from the young carers team or email youngcarers@centre33.org.uk

They offer free advice, support and training to families who have children with additional needs or disabilities. They also run a number of fully inclusive low cost events and activities throughout the year to enable families to spend time with others in a similar situation and meet their team in an informal environment.

They are currently involved in a number of strategic work streams and they would love to hear your feedback. If you have any experiences or concerns you wish to share relating to preparing for adulthood, Peterborough Autism Services or community equipment provision please get in touch at participation@familyvoice.org

Their 'Expert Parent Programme' provides you with an insight to the health system and helps you to get most out of the services and fundamentals for your journey. In addition, they help you to gain confidence when speaking to health professionals and using the time you have to your advantage.

Their ‘Challenging Behaviour’ Workshop looks at the root causes of behaviours that challenge, helps you to understand the meaning behind them and teaches strategies to communicate effectively with your child or young person to overcome the difficulties you are facing.

Family Voice Peterborough are also in the process of developing workshops on Disability Living Allowance, Personal Independence Payments and carers rights – please keep an eye out on their website for these going live at familyvoice.org/training

Unite against dementia across Cambridgeshire and Peterborough

There are more than 10,000 people living with the condition across the county and dementia affects everyone differently.

Alzheimer’s Society provides information and support, improves care, funds research, and creates lasting change for people affected by dementia.

Across Cambridgeshire and Peterborough there are a number of ways people can access support networks and speak to professionals.

Someone to talk to
You can phone at any time during the opening hours to talk in confidence with a member of staff from the Dementia Support Service.

Alternatively, at Peterborough’s Dementia Resource Centre, come to one of the drop-in peer support groups:
• Tuesdays, 10.30am-12 noon for carers
• Fridays, 2pm-3.30pm for people with dementia.

Staff are available to listen when you just feel the need to talk, or to offer information and advice on specific issues.

Dementia Advisers and Dementia Support Workers
Dementia Advisers offer information about all aspects of living with dementia and supports people to access services.

Dementia Support Workers give personalised information and support to people with dementia and their carers to help better understand the condition, cope with day-to-day challenges and prepare for the future. Home visits can be arranged through here if needed.

The Carer Information and Support Programme (CrISP)
The Carer Information Support Programme is a series of workshops available in Peterborough for carers and family members of people with dementia. This programme aims to offer structured information to inform and support the caring role. Carers do not necessarily have to live with the person with dementia.

Activity Groups
There are various opportunities available to give people affected by dementia the chance to take part in structured activities. These give people the availability to meet others in an informal relaxed setting.

Become a Dementia Friend
Alzheimer’s Society’s Dementia Friends initiative allows people to learn a little bit more about what it’s like to live with dementia and then turn that understanding into action.

Alzheimer’s Society is powering the growing dementia movement for change and has already seen over three million people become Alzheimer’s Society Dementia Friends across the UK.

Total Voice Cambridge and Peterborough

Need Support to Speak Up? TotalVoice can help

Do you know where to turn for help if you struggle to be heard? Would you like support to understand your rights and make decisions about health and social care?

It can be very daunting understanding the legal and statutory procedures involved with social care, but advocacy support for family carers is available from Total Voice Cambridge and Peterborough. The service is free, independent and confidential.

An advocate is a person who speaks up or acts on someone else’s behalf, or supports you to speak up for yourself.

Family carers have rights under the Care Act 2014, to protect their own health and wellbeing. The legislation puts the family carer’s needs on the same level as the person they care for. This includes rights to advocacy, subject to eligibility.

Total Voice can:
• support you to be heard
• help you understand your rights, choices and options
• enable you to make your own decisions about health and social care
• help you to get support from the people around you in your community
• give you the tools to do as much as you can for yourself.

You will need to be referred to Total Voice by your local adult social services.
