The Bright Heart Approach

This is our heart-based approach, which involves meeting the whole person from their unique perspective with warmth to build trust, self-esteem and self-belief, before building on academic abilities.

Heart Connection → Trust → Academic Progress → Confidence → Fulfilled Potential

Individual learning needs

Our tutors are trained to understand the individual learning needs of students, supported by our training relationship with nasen (National Association of Special Educational Needs).

“Our daughter’s tutor is very good and is always happy to cover new material with her. He is good at explaining things and makes her feel at ease. He is kind and helpful.”

Who we support

We cover primary students to A-level and are specialists in learning challenges and those students lacking confidence and motivation, as well as those not ‘fitting in’ with traditional schooling.
